To whom this may concern:

I recently had the opportunity to work with Wesley Dzitser in the Winter/Spring 2021 App Development internship at CHOYCES where we aim to Creatively Help Our Youth Conquer Education & Success. It is my pleasure to now recommend him for further opportunities with your organization.

In all of his work throughout the winter/spring, Wesley continually displayed commitment, dedication, enthusiasm, and professionalism while interning at CHOYCES. He created layouts and plans to create an app related to the company website and instructional games to support the mission of CHOYCES to Creatively Help Our Youth Conquer Education & Success. His skills led to amazing contributions to his team and the organization as a whole. To enhance his skills while serving as an intern, he engaged in webinars and written reflections to enhance his knowledge and skills related to app development.

Wesley's skills grew during the internship. Wesley collaborated with other teams such as curriculum development and web design team to assist in completed department related tasks. He also helped other departments, if needed, by raising funds to host our monthly special classes, and anything else the company needed to Creatively Help Our Youth Conquer Education & Success. He understood the mission and vision of CHOYCES and made it his own. As you can see, Wesley is the ideal employee and was a pleasure to work with.

I believe Wesley would be a great addition to your team in both their skills and personality. He will not only be an asset for your own growth but will absolutely grow to achieve great things under your experience. If you have any further questions about this applicant, please feel free to reach out at dgoalsby@choyces.org, this letter can only capture so much of the work Wesley has completed as part of the CHOYCES team.

Sincerely,

Dr. Danielle Goolsby, CEO & Founder
